iHV CONFERENCE FEEDBACK

This is a fantastic opportunity to attend the iHV's evidence-based practice conference - Health for All Children Now. This inspiring conference will include leading professionals and experts speaking on a number of different topics, including Professor Alan Emond, the new editor of Health for All Children 5th Edition. Full programme details will be announced shortly. This conference is the MUST-ATTEND event in 2019 for those interested in evidence-based infant and family public health and health visiting to come together to hear the latest guidance and recommendations.
