

Safeguarding Supervision Champions Programme

5th & 6th February 2026

iHV Safeguarding Supervision Champions Programme

Safeguarding supervision provides a structured discussion between supervisee and supervisor to support and advise on specific complexities and challenges within their caseloads. For safeguarding supervision to enhance safeguarding practice, accountability and responsibility is targeted to the organisation, the supervisor, and the supervisee. The aim is to develop competent, confident, professionally curious practitioners who work across all relevant agencies to support the best interests of a baby/child/young person/individual and their families.

Our programmes are suitable for single and multi-agency audiences across the UK and globally. This programme is two days in length. It can be delivered virtually or face to face.

What is Champions training?

The Champions model of training is excellent for sustainability and embedding subject specific education in practice. Following training, the Champions can use resources provided to undertake a cascade of Awareness training to colleagues (where agreed locally).

The Champions programme also aims to support informal leadership and advocacy for the subject. Champions are intended to be advocates to promote the importance of safeguarding supervision across their workforce/scope of practice. Safeguarding supervision champions will be supported with a bi-annual network of practice/update delivered virtually.

Attributes of a Champion include: having an interest/role in safeguarding/safeguarding supervision, staff well-being, being a good communicator and having the confidence to promote the subject with others (or train from a lesson plan and resources), and being organised and able to contribute to initiatives being developed in their workplace or deliver small groups of awareness training (where agreed locally).

Programme Aim

To equip safeguarding supervisors with research-based knowledge and practical skills to manage safeguarding supervision effectively across diverse fields of practice, ensuring a baby/child/young person/individual/family-focused approach.

Participants will become Safeguarding Supervision Champions, promoting authentic safeguarding supervision and acting as place-based leaders to raise awareness among peers and colleagues.

Programme Objectives

1. Critical Reflection

- Explore participants' own experiences of safeguarding supervision.
- Examine perceptions of what constitutes an effective safeguarding supervision process.

2. Knowledge Enhancement

- Deepen understanding of safeguarding supervision principles.
- Learn about models and frameworks used to engage supervisees effectively.

3. Person-Centred Practice

- Embed a person-centred focus in supervision.
- Engage in reflective processes to assess supervision delivery and its impact on practice.

4. Evidence-Based Implementation

- Equip participants to deliver, evaluate, and promote an authentic, structured model of safeguarding supervision.
- Ensure the model is evidence-based and supports all stakeholders (supervisor, supervisee, baby/child/family/individual).
